DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of wave plate structures:

- a. Ridge lines or valley lines (see for example Claim 41)
- b. Ridge lines and valley lines (see for example Claim 44, 45)

The species are distinct because they do not overlap in scope, i.e. are mutually exclusive, the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants and the invention as claimed are not capable of use together. See MPEP 806.05(j). Either the wave plate structure has one of a ridge line or valley line structure, or the wave plate structure has both.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 40 is generic.

2. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of side portions comprising a supporting member:

- c. Upper Side in combination with a lower side (see for example Claim 46)
- d. Front Side in combination with a trailing side (see for example Claims 47)

The species are distinct because the related inventions do not overlap in scope, i.e. are mutually exclusive, the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants and the invention as claimed are not capable of use together. See MPEP 806.05(j). It should be appreciated that the examiner can not find a discussion with regards to the "upper side" in the specification and therefore believes that since applicant has not disclosed the upper side and front side as capable of both having a supporting member then applicant means either side could have a supporting member.

3. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species delays in phase is timed to the motion of the:

- e. Outer wing tip section (see Claim 58)
- f. Root of the wing (Claim 60)

The species are distinct because the related inventions do not overlap in scope, i.e. are mutually exclusive, the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants and the invention as claimed are not capable of use together. See MPEP 806.05(j).

4. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of prescribed parameter is:

- g. A lift force generated by the upward and downward motion of the the wing portion relative to the body
- h. A value obtained by dividing a lift force generated by the motion of the wing portion by a torque necessary for driving said wing portion so as to generated a desired lift force

- i. The highest frequency of said driving unit necessary for realizing said optimum upward and downward motion of said wing portion.

The species are distinct because the related inventions do not overlap in scope, i.e. are mutually exclusive, the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants and the invention as claimed are not capable of use together. See MPEP 806.05(j).

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
